THE SNOW SHOE REGION

Last Installment of Historical Sketch.

VILLAGE OF SNOW SHOE

Was Laid Out by the Bellefonte and Snow Shoe Railroad Company In 1858.

MORAVIAN MISSIONARIES IN 1772

This village was laid out by the Bellefonte and Snow Shoe Railroad Company in 1858, and is gradually increasing. Having the freight and passenger depot, it is a centre of considerable business, and no doubt will continue to increase. It contained four churches—Methodist, Presbyterian, Messiah, and Catholic—and a school house, several stores, and two hotels. The Chinklacamoose House was built by and owned by the railroad company, and conducted by Mr. Edward Nolan; the other was owned and conducted by Mr. John Uzzle, who has been for many years a citizen of the township, and by his energy and persevering industry has added considerably to the improvement of the town and country.

BELLEFONTE AND SNOW SHOE RAILROAD.

The building of this road was an important event in the history not only of Snow Shoe, but also of Centre county; and it is due to those who were instrumental in preparing the way for the completion of this enterprise, that the facts and circumstances connected therewith should appear in this history. The latter part of the Gratz lands containing coal were involved in lawsuits with the Wallace heirs, which no doubt would have been in litigation for many years. To secure them was the first step towards the building of the road. Fortunately the Hon. A. G. Curtin and Judge Hale were attorneys for the Gratzes, and, apart from personal interest, a spirit of enterprise led them to avoid the delay of lawsuits by advising their clients to compromise. The writer, who was the agent and adviser of the Wallace heirs, consented to negotiate, which negotiation resulted in a compromise. The next step was to purchase from the Gratzes. As they were old and in declining life, they were not disposed to engage in the railroad enterprise. William A. Thomas was selected to make the purchase, and obtained a deed for all their lands in Snow Shoe. A company was then formed, composed mostly of Philadelphia capitalists. The survey was commenced in 1856 and completed, the cars put on the track in 1859, and the road has since been in operation under good and efficient management. Daniel Rhoads, a gentleman well qualified for the position, has been general superintendent from the commencement. William Harris, of Bellefonte, located the road and acted in the capacity of engineer up to the sickness of which he died, a few years ago. After his death James Sommerville was engineer for several years.

John Sommerville was superintendent of the coal mines up to his death. Mr. Sommerville was a good citizen, and his death was a great loss to the community and to the company. During the troublous times the country passed through since 1873, when the coal regions were the scenes of violence and bloodshed, no strike or uprising of the miners at Snow Shoe ever occurred.

MORAVIAN MISSIONARIES.

It is probable that the first travelling by white people on the Indian path in Snow Shoe was done by the Moravian missionaries in July, 1772, a sketch of which may be interesting, especially to those acquainted with the route. A full narration of their journey from Shesbequin, on the north branch of the Susquehanna, to the Ohio, is published in Sherman Day's "Historical Recollections of Pennsylvania."

The Moravians lost their land on the north branch of the Susquehanna; at Shesbequin, by the treaty with the Six Nations in 1768. They had received many pressing invitations from the Delawares, on the Ohio, to settle among them, and they finally resolved to move there. On the 11th of June, 1772, they entered upon the journey, dividing into two companies. One company, with their goods, went by water to Sunbury, and up the west branch of the Susquehanna to the Great Island; the other, with their cattle and horses, crossed through the country by land. The whole number—including men, women, and children—was two hundred and forty. The land party had seventy head of cattle and a great number of horses. Both parties met at the Great Island on the 29th of June, 1772, and from that point proceeded by land. The narrative states:

"When they arrived at the mountains they met with great difficulties in crossing them; for not having horses enough to carry all the baggage, most of them were obliged to carry some part. During a considerable part of the journey the rattlesnakes kept them in constant alarm, as they lay in great numbers either in or near the road. These venomous creatures destroyed several of the horses, but the oxen were saved by driving them in the rear. The most troublesome plague in the woods was a kind of insects called by the Indians 'punks' (gnats), or living ashes, from their being so small, as they are hardly visible, and their bites as painful as red-hot ashes."

Several of the Moravian party died on the journey. One is buried at Moravian Run, where the Indian path crosses, about a mile west of Big Moshannon Creek; and from this the name "Moravian" was given to the run. They often had to stop for several days to supply themselves with provision. "They killed upward of one hundred and fifty deer during the journey, and found great abundance of fish."

It may readily be imagined, that in the month of July, 1772, while this party was passing through Snow Shoe, the denizens of the forest were considerably alarmed. The same or a similar party passing through now would wake up the denizens of a higher and more advanced civilization, especially if they came upon them unheralded.

(The end.)

Wedding Bells at Seven Stars.

A very petty wedding took place Thursday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Mattern, near Frankville, when Charlotte Mattern and Edgar Warren Bailey, of Johnstown, were united in marriage in the presence of the immediate families and a few intimate friends.

Promptly at 12 o'clock, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Mame Weaver, of Altoona, the two little flower girls, Janie Mattern and Nellie Miller, sister and cousin of the bride, entered the parlor and took their positions on either side of a green archway. The bridesmaid Miss Maud Bailey, sister of the groom, attended by George Mattern, brother of the bride, next entered, followed by the bride and groom who stood under a wedding bell of flowers and evergreens, while the impressive ceremony was performed by the pastor of the bride, Rev. R. S. Stair, of Tyrone. The bride looked especially attractive in a gown of white silk trimmed with lace. After congratulations an elaborate and bountiful wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will make their home in Johnstown. Both are popular young people and have the sincerest wishes of all their friends for a happy and prosperous life.

Among those present, besides the brides family, were T. Scott Bailey and wife, Maud Bailey, Sue Bailey, Nannie Bailey, Mary Bailey and Foster Bailey, all of State College; Geo. Mattern, of Altoona; Misses Weaver, of Altoona; Mrs. E. K. McCarthy, of Newton Hamilton; Mrs. James Miller, Dorsey Miller Nellie Miller, of Pennsylvania Furnace; Mrs. Cline, of Franklinville and Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Stair, of Tyrone.

Didn't Keep Prisoner Long.

With a steel saw that he had concealed in the armpit padding of his coat, William Carter, alias Calvert, alias Smith, the young car-breaker, who had swung head downward over the side of a train going over 20 miles an hour, broken the seal of a car door and looted the interior, cut his way to liberty Friday night and escaped from the Jenkintown station house.

Just above him, in the little Temple of Justice, sat Magistrate Walker, keeping vigil lest some suspicious character should visit Carter, while the latter, having sawed through a heavy lock upon his cell door, simply opened the rear door of the building and sauntered away to enjoy his new lease of liberty.

At 10 o'clock the prisoner was sitting quietly in his cell. Several hours later, when 'phone calls were few and far between, Justice Walker went to the cell and found it, empty. Carter was gone and on the floor lay the padding from his coat and the big brass lock.

Carter owes his escape solely to his own ingenuity in successfully hiding the steel saw in the lining of his coat.

THE GRANGER'S BIG PICNIC.

Large Crowds in Attendance This Year.

MANY GOOD EXHIBITS

5000 People Were at Grange Park on Wednesday Re-Union of

THE KNIGHTS OF THE GOLDEN EAGLE.

Wednesday was a big day at the annual Picnic and Exhibition of the Patrons of Husbandry of Centre county. The weather was threatening in the morning but it soon cleared up and was fine the balance of the day. It is estimated that there were 5000 people on the grounds and the scene was indeed a lively one.

What added to the interest of the occasion was the annual reunion of the Knights of the Golden Eagle of Centre and Clinton counties. Many castles in the two counties were represented and the parade which took place at 1 o'clock was lengthy and presented a fine appearance. The Sir Knights formed in front of Grange Arcadia at Centre Hall and marched to the Park headed by the Lemont band, which by the way is one of the finest musical organizations in the county. There were 293 castles in the line of parade. A big meeting was held in the auditorium, which was crowded with people.

Inspiring addresses were made by Past Supreme Chief Thomas Birchall, of Philadelphia and Col. Luther Smith, of Johnstown, Pa. It was decided at the meeting to form a permanent organization and officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:

President—John Smith, Spring Mills.

Vice President—Samuel Weiter, Millheim.

Treasurer—John H. Roush, Madisonburg.

Secretary—R. U. Bitner.

It was decided to hold the reunion at Grange Park every year.

THE PICNIC GROUNDS.

The picnic grounds never looked better than they do this year. Everything is arranged in the best manner possible.

Something new and novel this year is the monument made of corn, fruits, pumpkins and cereals. It stands right in front of Grange headquarters and presents a splendid appearance. It can be seen from any part of the ground. It took three days to build it and it was designed and erected by G. H. Strohmyer, the Centre Hall marble dealer who was ably assisted by James A. Keller, Harrison Kline and other members of the Grange.

Among the many exhibits on the ground are the following: Mifflinburg Buggy Co; James Condo, buggies, Penn Hall; Columbia Wagon Co.; M. C. Gephart, pianos, Bellefonte; Max Zerby, clothing, Millheim; Thornton Barnes, groceries, Philadelphia; Garitee & Son, clothing, Philadelphia; R. H. Homan, cream seperator, Oak Hall; Luse Manufacturing Co., road rollers, corn planters, feed cutters and hydrants, Centre Hall; Huber, novelties, Mechanicsburg; E. L. Bergstresser, photographs, Hublersburg; Fareman & Smith, farm implements, Centre Hall.

The poultry exhibit this year is unusually fine. Among the exhibitors, are D. C. Keller, John S. Frazer and W. F. Smith, Edith Lutz, Centre Hall; B. Kauffman, Zion.

Additional Lime Operations.

That section of the county in and around Pleasant Gap promises to be one of the biggest lime operatins at no distant day of any place in the State. Following close on the operations by the Whiterock quarries the American Lime and Stone Co., on Wednesday began surveying for a branch road from Penn, on the line of the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad to the Woodring farm west of Pleasant Gap, which they recently secured and where they will open up operations in the near future. This will mean the building of from four to six kilns, at least, and the employment of a large number of men. There is a good ledge of limestone rock at the base of Nittany mountain, enough to assure operations thereabouts for years to come and the only hope is that the developments now begun may be continued.

JOHN KESIGLE DEAD.

Passed Away in Lock Haven Hospital Friday Night.

John Kesigle, who was run over by a train at Mill Hall on Thursday morning, died in the Lock Haven hospital this morning at 1:25 o'clock. The following particulars of the accident are taken from the Lock Haven Democrat of Friday.

John Kesigle, a patent medicine vender of Howard aged about 60 years, was struck by the Bald Eagle Valley passenger train at Mill Hall station at 9.01 o'clock Thursday forenoon and had both legs cut off below the knees and was rendered unconscious by being struck on the head by the pilot of the engine.

The only eye witness to the accident, it is said, was August Pricklemyer, the engineer at the pump station, which is located but a short distance west of where the accident occurred.

Mr. Pricklemyer states that the man was standing behind a box car which was on the siding at the lower end of the depot and just as the train approached he stepped from behind the car on the outer track on which the train was running. The engineer of the train evidently saw the man make the step for he blew the whistle and reversed his engine, but not in time to prevent his train striking him. As the man leaned forward to step on the track the pilot struck him and he fell backwards with his legs extended across the rails.

His body was picked up in an unconscious state, and Dr. A. B Painter summoned who made an examination and directed that he be sent to Lock Haven hospital which was done, Mr Kesigle is well known in and around Mill Hall where he has been a vender of Patent medicine for several years. His home is at Howard, where his wife died and was buried just last Sunday. He has a daughted Mrs. John Lee, who lives near Zion and the injured man's neighbors at Howard stated that it was the intention of the unfortunate man to come to Bellefonte Thursday morning and return that afternoon to Curtin, where his son-in-law had arranged to meet him.

Man Keeps Child for Whom Ex-Wife Sued.

A sensational case was settled here Wednesday by Judge Ellis L. Orvis, when he handed down his decree in the case of Mrs. J. G. Ingram, of Harrisburg, against her divorced husband, Alexander Duncan, of Philipsburg, for the possession of their 11-year-old daughter, Margaret, in which he remanded the child into the care of her father.

The case was heard at a special session of court on June 28, at which time the winsome little girl created some consternation when asked by the Court if she wanted to go with her mother by declaring that she did not, but wanted to stay with her father.

Great interest has been manifested because of the prominence of the contracting parties. The defendant for twenty years has been connected with banks in Philipsburg. Thirteen years ago Miss Scull, a society belle of Lebanon, came to visit in Philipsburg. She and Duncan met, and at the end of a year were married.

They had but the one child. They lived together until 1900. From that time Mrs. Duncan spent most of her time either at her old home in Lebanon, in Harrisburg or in Atlantic City. In Harrisburg she met J. G. Ingram, a young business man, and received his marked attentions.

She was away in August, 1901, with her little girl, but sent the child back to her husband along. In the meantime she had applied for a divorce, and as it was not contested, the same was granted in November 1901. Ten days later she married Ingram.

As they have had no children, the woman now desired to get possession of her daughter by her first husband. The case was hotly contested, and many witnesses were heard. In his decree Judge Orvis not only gave the daughter to the father, but divided the costs equally.

Womelsdorf—Dietz.

Married at the residence of the brides parents at Jacksonville, on August 15th 1905, by Rev. J. F. Shultz. Mr. Clayton Womelsdorf, of Abdera, to Miss Irene Dietz, of Jacksonville, both of Centre Co.

The Massacre Stories Which had Been Reported from the Caucasus.

ARMENIANS BUTCHERED

Englishmen Connected With the Oil Industry at Baku Tell Interesting if Horrible, Particulars of the Reign of Terror.

START OF TROUBLE SEPTEMBER 2.

London, Sept. 27.—Interesting incidents of the experiences of the Englishmen connected with the oil industry at Baku are watching their relatives in England. Williams, one of four Englishmen rescued from a mob at Balakham, writes that the stories of the horrors give but a feeble idea of the actual occurrences. He adds

"I was shut up in my place at Zabrat for five days without any water except naizan (local miners water.) All the people here were crying and fainting. All around were fires and rifle shots. Ten Armenians were killed out of those in our own yard. You could not walk a yard without several shots being fired at you. We tried to save the wounded but the shooting was too good and we had to give up the attempt."

Edward Maccallum, another rescued British subject, fully confirms the stories of massacre, burning and pillage. After describing the commencement of the outbreak September 2, when the Armenians massacred 300 Tartars, he describes how during the night of Sept. 6 Tartars entered the workmen's barracks at Romani and massacred every body in them within an hour. Five hundred Tartars surrounded the works where Maccallum was stationed and forced him to give up the Armenians hiding on the premises.

"Fourteen of these was butchered in our yard with fiendish brutality," he says. "One man had his entire stomach cut out. The band sacked the neighborhood in the most systematic manner. They had carts ready to take away their plunder to the Tartar villages. Fifty Cossacks with a police chief arrived on the scene but did nothing except look on at the work of massacre. We lived condensed salt water."

Baku, Caucasus, Sept. 29.—The cemetery here is littered with the decomposing corpses of persons killed during the recent fighting, which were left unburied for the purpose of identifying them. The weather is hot and this makes the situation worse every day.

The authorities are quarreling with the grave diggers as to the terms upon which they will bury the bodies. The officials have offered to pay 10 cents for each corpse, while the grave diggers demand 25 cents a piece for the bodies they bury.

Reinforcements totalling 11,000 men, with three batteries of artillery have reached this city. The governor issued an order forbidding the troops under any circumstances to fire on house occupied by foreign consuls. Should, however, shots be fired from these buildings on the troops the landlords will be heavily fined.

The proprietors of the naptha wells and refineries have been ordered under pain of arrest to pay all the arrears of wages to their employes.

Embezzled Postoffice Funds.

A dispatch from Pittsburg states that certified copies of papers in the case of Charles Brainard, caught at Cheyenne and charged with embezzling postal funds from the Curwensville, Pa. postoffice were sent Saturday to the chief of police of Cheyenne, Wyo., and it is expected that an officer will start east with the prisoner as the papers reach Wyoming. The young man was a clerk in the postoffice where R. H. Brainard, his father, was postmaster.

He was in charge of the money orders, and it is alleged that Brainard would get an application for a money order, say for $100, from a customer, and after issuing the order would alter the application to make it appear as though it was an order for $25. The difference, $75, he would put in his pocket. The scheme would remain unknown until the accounts of the sending and receiving offices were checked against one another. It is declared that by this method young Brainard got $491.76.

The County Race at the Fair.

For years the Fair Association has been trying to have a good race for county horses. Not until this year have their efforts met with success. When the event was announced a few men signified a willingness to enter and now nearly a dozen of owners of good road horses are going to drive them in the race Wednesday afternoon.

While the spirit of the race is mere sport and a natural pride the owners take in the speed of their horses the prizes offered will be quite worth the effort and any one who wants to enter the race can do so up until the time of starting. No entrance fee is charged and all the horses must draw a four wheeled wagon, as it would not be fair to permit the use of a sulky unless all could have them.

This will be the feature attraction of the week because the average person enjoys a race far more when they know the horse and driver and know that there is no jockeying in it. The county race will be run Wednesday afternoon. Don't fail to be there to see it.

Among the entries that are sure are: Lewis Wallace, Milesburg; Bruce Lingle, Milesburg; W. J. Woodring, Port Matilda; C. W. Lytle, State College, and Henry Lowery, Bellefonte. There are a number of other gentlemen interested who will probably be in at the start. It should be remembered that not a horse that will go in this race has ever been tracked or raced for money.

Wednesday afternoon is the time, remember that.

Man Grows Tree For Making Own Coffin.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 25.—In the barn loft of Ember Mason, an aged farmer living a mile northeast of Leeds, are several fine walnut boards in the rough. Mr. Mason is seasoning these carefully to be used in making his coffin. About half a century ago, while clearing some ground on his farm, he found a young walnut tree that was remarkably straight and beautiful. He decided to let it remain and grow for this express purpose; and during the greater part of the long life it has been an object of tender solicitude.

During the sunshine and the storms of more than half a century that tree grew in the centre of a meadow from which all the other trees had been cleared. Fearing, however, that it might be struck by lightning and destroyed, and as it was already grown large enough for the purpose for which he intended it, Mr. Mason about a year ago had it cut down and sawed up into lumber. The "butt cut," from which he took the lumber for his coffin, squared fourteen inches.

"I think I'll take it to town and have it made up fore long," remarked Mr Mason the other day. "I'm givin' out putty fast of late, and I may need it any time now." He has become very hard of hearing, and during the last two months his sight has failed rapidly.

All-day Service for Church's Golden Fete.

All day services, terminating in evening prayer Tuesday night, marked the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Lock Haven. Prominent clergymen from different States took part, and the jubilee will not end until next Sunday, when Bishop Darlington preaches, assisted in the service by the pastor, the Rev. Louis Nichols.

Names high in the Anglican communion in this country are identified with the local church. The first Church of England missionary came here in 1775, but until 1852 services were exceedingly scarce. The local church really dates from the visit of Bishop Alonzo Potter here in 1855.

The first services in the present church were held in July, 1856. In 1863 the indebtedness was entirely cleared, and the late Rev. Philips Brooks, at his death Bishop of Massachusetts, preached the consecration sermon.

Rattlesnake Does not Commit Suicide.

Among the popular myths surrounding the rattlesnake is the one that a rattlesnake commits suicide when hard pressed. As a matter of fact, as has been proved again and again, the rattler is immune to his own poison and to that of his own species. At bay, beside himself with rage, or in the heat of a fight, a rattlesnake may strike right and left, biting indiscriminately, and accidentally he may sink his fangs into his own wicked sides and thus kill himself. In no case, however, is his death due to poison. Invariably, it will be found, the reptile has punctured his heart or another vital organ, and death is due purely to laceration.—Chicago Chronicle.

PENROSE TALKS TO GRANGERS

Thursday the Big Day at the Picnic.

The Picnic a Great Success This Year —Fruit and Cereal Exhibit Fine.

DR. WARREN MAKES AN ADDRESS.

Thursday was the big day at the Grangers picnic at Centre Hall and fully eight Thousand people were in attendance. Senator Boies Penrose was the conspicuous figure of the day and received a hearty reception. The Senator made a speech in which he dwelt upon the importance of agriculture.

"Representing as I do in part at Washington the great state of Pennsylvania, the second state of the Union and in many respects the greatest of all the states. I am not unmindful of the fact that not the least important element of this great constituency is composed of the agricultural interests of our commonwealth.

I am glad to be with you again and to have this opportunity to renew my friendly relations with so many prominent representatives of our grange interests.

In this age of enormous and unparalleled industrial development, we are apt to lose sight occasionally of the continued and permanent importance of agriculture in our civilization.

PENNSYLVANIA IN AGRICULTURE

It is true that we have in the western end of our state, in the city of Pittsburg and in the county of Allegheny, the greatest seat of industrial development that the world has ever seen, while at the eastern end we have the great city of Philadelphia, the third city in the Union and one of the great manufacturing cities of the world, and that we have numerous smaller but great and growing municipalities, but nevertheless, the fact remains that, while Pennsylvania stands first among the states of the Union in the production of iron and coal and second in the value of her manufactured products, she is also among the foremost in her position and rank as an agricultural state.

Looked upon from its scientific side, there is no branch of human industry that is being developed with greater rapidity than agriculture.

In this field the State of Pennsylvania and the Agricultural Department at Washington are doing excellent work, with ever-increasing and wider scope of usefulness.

The American farmer holds an important place in our American civilization today, and he has a splendid future of growing importance. With every year his conditions improve the products of his farm enhance in value; the scientific methods introduced make the possibilities greater and greater. The man who has his own farm and is his own master must always be the bulwark of our institutions. He has better opportunities for self-improvement and for keeping himself informed as to public matters and for forming a correct judgment thereon than many others absorbed in the endless toil and turmoil of the great centres of population.

I have always considered it one of my first duties, and it certainly has been one of my greatest pleasures, to contribute in any way to securing legislation and governmental action which will tend to the prosperity of our farming classes, and as I have done in this respect in the past, so I shall continue in the future.

Senator Penrose, in company with H. B. Warren, State Food Commissioner, arrived on the Grange Park Thursday morning when the Senator was given a rousing reception. For a couple of hours he stood at headquarters grasping the hand of the representative citizens of Centre county, most of whom were the horny-handed sons of toil. He, with Food Commissioner Warren, afterwards inspected the excellent agricultural display.

At 2 o'clock a large and enthusiastic audience assembled in the auditorium the meeting being presided over by Leonard Rhone, when addresses were made by Senator Penrose, Rev. J. C. Lathrop, J. L. Ailman, Secretary of State Grange; W. F. Hill, Master of State Grange; N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture, and H. B. Warren, State Pure Food Commissioner.

Leonard Rhone and two or three other speakers paid a glowing tribute to Senator Penrose for his untiring effort in getting the Grout bill passed, which means pure food.

The exhibit of fruit and cereals at the fair this year was the finest in years.

The Pennsylvania State College had an unusually fine exhibit this year and it attracted a great deal of favorable attention.

Bishop Opens Public Chapel in Residence.

Bishop James Henry Darlington, of the Episcopal Diocese of Harrisburg, has taken up a permanent residence in Williamsport. He has expended $1000 in fitting up a large room on the first floor of his house as a chapel for public worship, and an invitation is extended to any who care to avail themselves to repair to this chapel at any time of the day for prayers.

There are an altar, with brass altar rail, rich pews, cathedral stained glass windows and other churchly appointments. In this chapel the bishop, when home, will conduct a half hour service each day at a fixed time.

In consideration of the fact that a chapel has thus been established in the house, the City Councils, at their meeting Monday night, exonerated the bishop's residence from taxation.

Millions of Moth Millers.

The white moth Millers that have been making an unusual visit to this section for a number of years made their appearance a few days ago and the city is besieged in the evenings by millions of the little pests They love to hover about the electric lights and the stores are swarming full of them every evening and in the mornings they are swept out by the half peck. They will stay with us for only a few days.

Locomotive in Hunt for Purse.

A woman who was a passenger on Erie mail Monday morning missed her purse three miles west of Corry. It contained $75 and a diamond valued at $70. The woman informed the conductor of her loss. The latter at once stopped the train, and perceiving a locomotive that was not very busy the conductor laid the case before the engineer who volunteered to take the woman back to Corry in the hope that the lost purse might be discovered. The woman took advantage of the opportunity and the engineer kept a sharp lookout along the track. After going something over a mile the woman saw the purse and recovering it found the money and jewels intact.—Renovo News.

Runaway Hurls Man Off Bridge to Death.

William Funsch was driving a newspaper wagon across the Williamsburg bridge over the East river in New York City Tuesday when his horse took fright, bolted, threw the wagon against the curb and the driver out of his seat over the four-foot fence that protects the sidewalk into the street, 125 feet below. He was picked up with a crushed skull, instantly killed.

The driver was proceeding across the bridge from Williamsburg to Manhattan at a dog trot. Half across the horse ran away.

The wagon swung against the curb with terrific force, sliding up over the sidewalk against the iron railing on the edge of the bridge. The force of the shock loosened Funsch's hold on the reins and caused him to perform a complete somersault over the railing.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE REASON.—There is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for purifying the blood. It carries off the poisons which contaminate the life fluid. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands and gives the body an increased supply of pure, body-building blood. It builds up the body with sound healthy flesh instead of flabby fat, promotes the appetite, feeds the nerves, and so gives to weak, nervous people vitality and vigor.

"About a year ago I had a very bad cough and feared it would run into consumption," writes Hon. Geo. W. Lynch, of 27 Mason Street, Worcester, Mass. "When a severe attack of coughing would come on vomiting would set in. Matter accumulated in nose and my tonsils were irritated. After reading of the wonderful cures resulting from Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery began to use it, with some doubts as to the good it would do me, I am frank to say. But, after I had used one bottle I noticed quite a change for the better. Ordered five more bottles and before I had used them all the cure was complete. There is not now a trace of cough or cold in my system and my health is perfect."

His Heart Didn't Fail Under 2-Year Term

"I have heart disease, Judge, and I only ask you to be easy, very easy with me. I cannot stand excitement, so please be careful what you do with me," said Thomas Dillon, of Philadelphia, when he was arraigned before Magistrate Kochersperger on the charge of habitual drunkenness, preferred by his wife.

"I may have taken a little too much liquor, judge," continued the prisoner, but it was on account of my heart disease. So be easy, very easy, I want to be around for election, and, besides, I cannot stand any excitement, you know."

Dillon's pedigree as given by his wife was not at all favorable to him. She said he was drunk almost continuously, and had been in the house of correction several times

"Two years in the House of Correction, with a detainer," said the Magistrate.

Such a very severe sentence is seldom imposed in such cases, and it was thought it would cause Dillon to suffer a serious attack of the ailment of which he had complained. Instead of collapsing he smilled. "Oh, that's not very easy, but it is not so bad," he said.

"It certainly didn't affect your heart," replied the Magistrate.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Big Lime Operations Get Ready to Work.

Centre county promises in the near future to be the seat of the largest lime operations in the state. The Whiterock quarries have just been granted a charter for large operations at Pleasant Gap, and this week the American Lime and Stone Co., will begin work on a half-mile track to a point west of Pleasant Gap, where they will open up another large operation.

Two other companies are being formed to operate along the base of Nittany Mountain, and when all are in operation it will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars of capital invested, work for a couple thousand men and more than 100 cars daily, output of lime and ground stone

Cleaning Varnished Wood

The white marks left on varnished wood after water has been spilled on it can be entirely taken out with alcohol. Few people know this, and it has often been a perplexity to housewives how to remedy the trouble—some of them going so far as to have the article revarnished. Rub the woodwork well with the alcohol! then let it dry before touching it again. The slight stickiness resulting will disappear in a few moments, especially if the sunshine can reach it.

—If you are sick all over, and don't know just what ails you, it's ten to one your kidneys are out of order. Foley's Kidney Cure will bring you health and energy. C. M. Parrish.

A Modern Bluebeard

or the adventures of a Female Sherlock Holmes a realistic romance founded on fact by Fanny May. You who have been reading the daily papers can easily imagine how the thought came to the author's mind to write this story. Though purely a romance, many of its most sensational and dramatic scenes are based on fact. It is a startling expose of a wicked man's wiles. This realistic romance begins in No. 1644 of THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER

It's Dangerous To Doubt.

You have no right to doubt a thing that has been tested and found to rest on fact.

Vin-te-na has cured so many people in so many parts of the country that it is really unjust to predict a failure in any case that has gone beyond the power of medicine.

Vin-te-na purifies the blood and makes the nerves strong and steady. It not only cures disease but safeguards the system against every form of germ disease. Most all diseases are rooted in the blood. Vin-te-na cures the very cause of all blood disorders by destroying the impurities in the blood and giving it purity and warmth. Get it and be strong.

The Renewal a Strain.

Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic which should avert such serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

THE GREAT ICE AGE.

How Its Passing Left Its Record In Gravels and Rocks.

Some 10,000 or more years ago the conditions which had brought about the great ice age where beginning to change. The elevated land began to sink, and a higher temperature slowly followed. The long winter was gradually drawing to a close, and the great springtime of the world was beginning to hasten its influence upon an ice covered land. Tons, rather mountains, of ice began to melt, and the water filled the river valleys to overflowing. Gravel, sand and mud were borne along by these raging waters and deposited wherever the conditions were favorable. Ice rafts covered the surface of the flood, bearing rocks and bowlders from more northern lands.

All rivers which had glacial sources were greatly influenced by the final melting. As the southern part of the ice sheet rested over northern Pennsylvania, the Delaware and the Susquehanna were typical rivers of the age. The rocks and gravels which line their banks show how well they have kept the record. In the Delaware valley brick clay and gravel are laid out in beautiful terraces, especially at Stroudsburg and the Water Gap. Here the waters rose some 200 feet, and an artificial dam is supposed to have formed the river into a broad lake. The Indians, it is said, have a curious legend about this flood. They tell us that the "Minsies" were the first race which dwelt here, and the region roundabout they call "Minisink," meaning that the "waters are gone"—a vague remembrance perhaps of the postglacial floods.

THE GIFT OF GAB.

Why Stephenson Thought There Was No Power Equal to It.

When George Stephenson was visiting the seat of Sir Robert Peel at Drayton on one occasion, says the writer of "Famous British Engineers," there happened to be present Dr. Buckland, the scientist, and Sir William Follett, the famous advocate.

Stephenson discussed with Dr. Buckland one of his favorite theories as to the formation of coal and, though undoubtedly in the right, was ultimately vanquished by the arguments and oratory of the doctor, who was a better master of tongue fence than himself. Next morning while pondering over his defeat in the solitude of the garden he was accosted by Sir William Follett and confided to that gentleman the story of his failure.

Sir William, acquainted with the details of the matter in dispute, agreed to take up the case and soon afterward attacked Dr. Buckland on the subject. A long discussion ensued, in which the man of law completely silenced the man of science, who was at last compelled to own himself vanquished. Sir Robert Peel, highly amused at this example of "tit for tat," then turned to the inventor and inquired, with a laugh:

"And what do you say on this matter, Mr. Stephenson?"

"Why," he replied, "I will only say this—that of all the powers above and under the earth there seems to me no power equal to the gift of the gab."

Blois' Beautiful Staircase.

New or old, Blois is an amazing achievement of the human brain and the human head. The great staircase in the courtyard, an outside one, forming an essential part of the elevation, is, of course, the masterpiece of wonder and delight. There is nothing like it in the world, and probably there never will be. The staircase of the Paris Opera—an interior one, by the way—would have everything to fear in the comparison. The other is a mass of the richest and of the purest ornament, with a beautiful proportion between its shadows and its lights. It is characteristic of the spirit in which such work was done that it is not always easy to give due gratitude to architect or to stone carver.—Richard Whiteing in Century.

An Astute Weather Prophet.

"When in doubt," said a southern senator, "we should imitate the example of the astute weather prophet. This prophet walked into his inner office one day and said to his junior clerk, 'Well, how are the indications for tomorrow?' 'Mighty uncertain, sir,' the junior answered. 'I hardly know what kind of a prognostication to make out.' 'Oh,' said the chief, 'just make it fine weather, with local rain. Then if it is fine we are all right, and if it storms that will be one of the local rains of our prophecy.'"

Suburban Attractiveness.

Scout (from the city)—Where is the beautiful view you advertise? Farmer Takeminn—Why, ye jest walk over ter Pokeville an' take th' stage to Hen Lake an' the steamer ter Moose Landin' an' then climb up Skeeter mountain ter what they call "Lover's Leap," and thar ye git th' view, an' it's a daisy.—Puck.

Concerning Seasickness.

Two congressmen, discussing the discomforts of travel, happened to branch off on to the subject of seasickness. One of them said:

"Talk about seasickness, the fellow that traveled with me on my last European trip beat anything I ever met in all of my experience before. I tried all sorts of remedies on him, but without avail. He kept repeating, 'Oh, I am so sick, I am so sick.'

"Finally I cried out, 'Can't you keep anything on your stomach?'

"'Only my hands, Tom, only my hands.'"—Harper's Weekly.

AN UGLY PINE FLOOR.

The Way It Was Made Almost Equal to Hard Polished Wood.

"I moved into a cottage that had unsightly wide board, wide cracked floors of pine. They were badly stained and altogether hopeless looking when one realized that rugs were to be laid on them," says a writer in an exchange. "As there was no possibility of making them look worse, I decided to experiment. I scrubbed them clean, then carefully puttied up all the cracks with the aid of a putty knife. After the putty was dry I applied oak colored floor paint of a good, reliable brand. The first coat was thinly applied and well brushed in. This paint dried in twelve hours. Then the surface was lightly sandpapered, and a slightly heavier coat of paint was applied. After this was thoroughly hard it was sandpapered again and a thin, well brushed in coat of lacquered varnish put on. This takes longer to dry than paint and must be perfectly dry before being sandpapered in readiness for the second coat. By this time my stained and despised floors were a rich oak color, with a very fine hard polished surface. This work I did in the spring. In the fall I gave the floors a thin coat of linseed oil and turpentine (two parts oil to one turpentine), well rubbed in with a flannel, with the result that the floors took on their pristine freshness. Unless they have very hard use, painting and varnishing once a year is sufficient to keep them nice. To clean floors treated in this way it is only necessary to wipe them up once a month with a slightly oiled cloth drawn over a broom. I have seen floors painted black in the same manner and varnished with black floor polish that looked uncommonly well as a background for oriental or bright colored rugs. While I do not claim that floors treated as described herein are equal in effect to the beauty of well waxed hardwood floors, I do say that they are very well appearing and, with rugs on them, greatly to be preferred to the insanitary carpet."

CHOOSING CHAIRS.

Buy Those That Will Give the Greatest Measure of Comfort.

Why is it that so few women seem to know how to choose comfortable chairs when they are furnishing their homes? We all can recall numbers of parlors prettily and tastefully arranged, yet not containing one really comfortable chair! By that is not meant a lounging or reclining chair—many so called "easy chairs" are such in name only—but a really and truly good chair to sit in, with the seat the right height from the floor and the back at the correct angle. For those who need not consider expense there is no excuse for not having chairs to suit them. All cabinetmakers have chair patterns—that is, models of chairs with movable legs, arms and backs, which can be adjusted to exactly fit any person, and can guarantee chairs for each member of a family if they will come to be measured.

Such things are, however, luxurious and beyond the means of most housewives. Fortunately in factory made furniture, even among the cheaper grades, most comfortable chairs are to be found if care is only exercised in the selection. Don't buy a chair just because it is "pretty." Chairs are made to sit in, not to look at. Don't buy a chair just because it is "odd." Chairs are not curiosities! If you have a tall family have chairs with seats high from the ground, so that people shall not feel and look cramped in them. If, on the other hand, the members of your family are short, have some low chairs in which they can sit without footstools, but also remember that you may have tall guests, and provide one or two chairs for them.—Boston Traveler.

High Esteem In Which Candidate Plummer Is Held By Neighbors.

INSURGENT FLINGS RESENTED

From the Pulpit and Bench, in the Business World and Among the Wage Earners, Republican Nominee Is Commended.

Nothing has occurred in the history of local politics in this section during recent years to create such a thorough storm of indignation among the people of this locality, says a special from Altoona to the Philadelphia Inquirer, as did the unjust attack made in a speech delivered by O. H. Hewit, of Hollidaysburg, before the meeting of the Lincoln Party committee, held in Philadelphia, and aimed directly against his fellow-townsman, J. Lee Plummer, the Republican nominee for state treasurer of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Hewit's remarks reflecting upon Mr. Plummer's standing in the community were promptly resented by some of the most prominent men in Blair county, irrespective of their political affiliations.

Citizens of Hollidaysburg were particularly incensed at the attack made upon Mr. Plummer and were quick to speak their minds on the subject. Mr. Hewit declares that he was misquoted, but whether he was correctly reported or not, citizens generally hereabouts have taken occasion to vent their indignation at the wrong done Mr. Plummer, about whose standing in the community there is but one opinion. It is of the very highest.

The esteem in which Mr. Plummer is held may be gathered from a few public statements made to a representative of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

From Judge and Pastor.

President Judge Martin Bell says: "I have known J. Lee Plummer intimately for 25 years. He is a model husband and father, and his private character has been pure and free from all taint of wrong-doing. His honesty and integrity, both as a citizen and lawyer, are unquestioned in this community."

Rev. George S. Woomer, pastor of the First M. E. Church of Hollidaysburg, where Mr. Plummer attends, is quoted: "For more than two years I have been a resident of Hollidaysburg and the pastor of the First Methodist church located in this town. Hon. J. Lee Plummer is a member of the church and a regular attendant at the church services. He is one of the trustees of the church, and for nine years has been the secretary and treasurer of the board. He has the confidence and esteem of the church membership and of the community at large. His private life and character are above reproach and his family life is ideal. He holds my confidence and esteem as a man and as a Christian minister."

John D. Blair, a prominent lawyer, says: "Mr. Plummer is one of our best citizens. He has always been industrious, upright, honest and honorable. A man of the very highest morals. I know of no one to whom I would trust my private affairs more implicitly than to Mr. Plummer. Acquainted with the trials of one who has never lost his close sympathy with the struggling masses, the people of Blair county by repeated ballot have borne testimony of their estimate of his worth. His friends are of the very best people of this community and their ardent support of him is the evidence of their esteem."

Of Unimpeachable Integrity.

W. I. Woodcock, a prominent member of the bar, states: "I have been intimately acquainted with Mr. Plummer. He read law in my office. He is a man of unimpeachable integrity and unassailable moral character. He is strictly temperate, being an active member of the Methodist church."

Rev. P. Verliker, of St. Mark's Catholic church, frankly said: "He is a gentleman from first to last. He is a good neighbor, a good citizen and considered so by all with whom I have come in contact. Both Republicans and Democrats here hold him in high esteem. The local citizens generally are willing to give him their support and anxious to see his election to the high office of the state treasurer. He is first among the first gentlemen of this borough and morally as well as otherwise a most respected resident."

J. A. B. Melvin, president of the Altoona Trust company, has this frank interview: "I have intimately known J. Lee Plummer about 22 years. I have lived a neighbor with him 18 years, nine of which have been on the same lawn, therefore have knowledge of his daily life during all these years. He has been uniformly kind and obliging and in every possible way has been to me a desirable neighbor. He is today and always has been a respected citizen of the town. He has been careful in his daily life. He is a member and official of the Methodist church, and won his way to present position of prominence through native ability, aided by such good qualities as named above."

J. King McLanaghan, Sr., president of the McLanaghan Stone Machine company, has this to say: "I have never heard anything derogatory to Mr. Plummer, and always found him to be an honest, upright citizen. I believe he will make an efficient state treasurer, and in my opinion the people of Hollidaysburg, irrespective of politics, intend to vote for him."

"The People Like Him."

P. W. Snyder, a well-known druggist, "Mr. Plummer is an honest, up-

EDITORIAL.

THE BELLEFONTE "REPUBLICAN" FOR 25 CENTS.

In order to place the REPUBLICAN, during the coming campaign, in as many homes as possible, we have decided to make the following liberal offer. On receipt of 25 cents, we will mail the Republican (weekly) to new subscribers, until after the election in November. As the campaign promises to be decidedly exciting and interesting, persons wishing to keep themselves informed on the political situation, should avail themselves of this generous offer.

The "flopper" who is sensitive doesn't dare to read the papers of his old party.

All the Republican county candidates are such good men, and so fit for office, that the people, who can be depended upon to recognize a good thing in politics, are going to give them substantial majorities in November.

EARLE C. TUTEN, our candidate for Register, is one of the finest young men in Centre county, polite and obliging, with a most agreeable manner, he would make one of the most courteous and capable Registers we have ever had.

If the political liar could be eliminated from our campaigns, it would be a long step toward cleaner politics. The man who lies to obtain a business end gets the contempt of all respectable persons. Why shouldn't the same rule hold good in politics?

LINCOLN SWARTZ, our candidate for Treasurer, is in every way qualified to fill that office to the satisfaction of every one. He has the ability to conduct its affairs in a business like manner, and will be one of the most popular officers ever elected to that position.

VOTE FOR MILLER AND BAILEY.

Every voter knows the importance of having practical men as Commissioners, men of good judgment, and with a knowledge of business. Such men we present as our candidates for that office. John G. Bailey is a man of mature years, living on a farm in Ferguson Township, of excellent character, and commanding the respect of his neighbors and all who know him. He has the advantages of a good education, and a fine knowledge of business.

Abram V. Miller, our other candidate, is so well known throughout the county, that it is hardly necessary to present his claims to the people. He is acknowledged to be one of the most careful, economical and conservative Commissioners we have ever had, and the excellent condition of our county finances is largely due to his ability, and care, in the management of that office.

Modes of the Moment.

The elbow sleeve and the long glove will hold its vogue.

Waists will be made either with or without yokes, either style being popular.

Sleeves will be big at the shoulders, but they will positively not be crinolined.

Hand embroidery will hold its own, but will be simple, a few sprays of this or a few sprays of that being sufficient.

The late summer shirt waist suit resembles the wash suit but little. It is more neatly tailored, and the skirt is fuller and is more elegantly finished.

Crepe de chine and all sorts of colored novelty crapes will be worn. They will be durable, and they will be of varying weights, from very light and thin to heavy and stately.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Poverty Not a Bar to Progress.

"Such men as Mr. Plummer, embodying all the sterling qualities characteristic of the truest Americans afford the very best examples to the sons of the wage workers," says the editor of the Labor World of Pittsburg. "Depend upon it they prove that poverty is not a barrier to success when determination and honesty of purpose are employed. Thus it is that these examples should be encouraged by those who benefit most by them, that is, the working men themselves.

"Let the honorable and progressive course of the quondam news boy be continued. His past gives assurance for the future. He comes from the ranks and is one of the people."

Rosen's Reason.

[Baron Rosen of the Russian peace commission is provoked at being followed about by an army of camera fiends.—Current News.]

I'm weary as can be-sky of the crowd of camerists
That never, never, day or night, from vigilance desists.
I've had myself snapshottedoff and kodakizedovitch
Until I fear I'll overcrowd my small historic niche.
I can't step out to take a stroll to stretch my tired legs
But hosts of shutters swift are clicked by squeezing rubber eggs;
I can't lift up my hat to greet a comrade or a friend
But some confounded camerist has caught my graceful bend.

At night as I put out the light to tumble into bed
A flashlight in my room explodes—I'm frightened almost dead.
Then in some sheet next day I'll read, with anger's deepest thrill,
"Above is Baron Rosen as we caught him dishabille."
I cannot frown or yawn or stretch, I cannot speak or smile,
But—click! A cut with caption you can read at half a mile.
And even now—to me 'tis sad; 'twill make the public laugh—
Some rag will shriek of this my mood so forth en photograph!

I'm weary as can be-sky of the mob of camerists—
The vampire throng that never from its vigilance desists;
I'm tired of "Rosen's eyebrows," of "Herr Rosen's whiskered chin,"
Of "Rosen, as this picture shows, has hair that's rather thin,"
Of "Rosen's hand is hairy, as this photograph denotes,"
Of "These are lips of Rosen, who for peace or warfare votes."
I can't step out to take a stroll and stretch my languid legs
But hosts of shutters quick are clicked by squeezing rubber eggs!

TO GIVE NO QUARTER

Lincolnites and Democrats Will Be Treated Alike.

ATTACK POLITICAL GUERILLAS

Candidate For State Treasurer Plummer Given a Splendid Reception By the Clubmen.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.

The Republican campaign is now under way in earnest. The aggressive young Republicans of the State League of Clubs fired the first gun at their big convention in Easton, and since then there has been a booming of heavy artillery all along the line.

From every county comes reports that the Republican skirmishers are out, that the lines are extended in every direction and that the enemy is to be pressed to speedy conclusions at every point.

"There will be no quarter asked or given," said Field Marshal Wesley R. Andrews at the Republican state committee headquarters. "The Republican colors are to be borne into the thick of the fight, and all enemies of Republicanism, whether they appear in the uniform of Democrats, Lincolnites or guerillas or insurgents of any kind or character, may expect to be treated alike and put to ignominious rout in the cause of good government and the maintenance of the principles and policies of the party which has made this the most prosperous and happy country in the world.

"Every Republican of Pennsylvania who realizes the significance of the present contest and the far-reaching effect of the result of the November election upon the future of the party will be found fighting for the entire Republican ticket."

Chairman Andrews has been overrun with callers from every county of the state during the last week, and is delighted with the situation and the outlook for a sweeping Republican majority.

Plummer Given An Ovation.

J. Lee Plummer, the Republican nominee for state treasurer, was given a great ovation by the Republican clubmen at Easton. He made a splendid speech, in which, among other things, he said:

"It is our proud boast today that the treasury of the commonwealth has never lost a dollar through the default of a state treasurer.

"When the Republican party came into power in Pennsylvania, real estate, trades and occupations, horses and cattle, household furniture and watches were all taxed for state purposes. Just as soon as the war was over the people were relieved of these taxes, so that now the only individual who pays a state tax is the one who has money at interest, and three-fourths of this tax, amounting in 1904 to $2,900,574, is returned to the counties in relief of local taxation. No man's home in Pennsylvania is taxed to support the state government.

"The policy of relieving local taxation is carried out in respect to the hotel licenses; four-fifths of the money received from this source is returned to the cities, boroughs and townships in which the hotels paying the licenses are located. More than $3,000,000 is returned to the municipalities each year from this source.

Liberal Support of Schools.

"The appropriation to the public schools is also made to relieve the people in their local taxes. In 1904 the princely sum of $6,256,167 was paid to the counties for this purpose.

"During the 45 years odd administrations of the government of Pennsylvania by the Republican party taxation of real estate, etc., for state purposes has been abolished, a debt of $40,000,000 has been paid, a surplus of several millions of dollars accumulated in the treasury and over $214,451,000 returned to the counties in relief of local taxation.

"Gentlemen, this is a record to be proud of, and I challenge any state in the United States or any country in the world to equal it.

"In nothing is the policy of the Republican party in this state to be more commended than in its appropriations for charitable and educational purposes."

Pennsylvania's Shame.

J. Hampton Moore, the progressive young Republican president of the National League of Clubs, in his speech at the Easton convention stirred the delegates to a high pitch of enthusiasm, when he said:

"It is a shame and a disgrace today that Pennsylvanians that are second to none in patriotism, morals and good citizenship, are subjected to invidious comment whenever they come in contact with the citizens of other states. This is due to the persistent and malignant circulation of slanderous untruths relating to the administration of public affairs, which slanders are the result solely of motives of disappointed ambition and revenge.

"The Republican candidate for state treasurer, a man of unquestioned respectability, whose home life is indorsed by his neighbors, has been the butt of misrepresentation and ridicule from the day of his nomination. Every other candidate has been subjected to the same kind of unfair criticism. And by whom?

"Mere factionists coalescing with Democrats who have offered nothing for a change of Republican faith except a nominee for state treasurer whose public life has been as varied as the hues of a chameleon, a human talking machine.

"For a stalwart Republican devoted to all the principles of freedom, protection and prosperity for which Lincoln, Grant, McKinley and Roosevelt have stood, they have offered an enigma, a human talking machine, who has never been for anything that has been successful, but who has devoted what talent he may possess to advocating destructive heresies like free trade, free silver and single tax—an anomaly in that besides being a Democrat he is a Prohibitionist.

"Such is the product of the work of defamation wrought by the disgruntled factionists who have profaned the name of Lincoln that they might the more successfully deceive the Republican voters of the state. Factionists who in 1882 and in 1890 adopted similar tactics, which resulted in the defeat of the Republican candidate for governor and in the election of Grover Cleveland, the apostle of free trade, idle mills and soup houses."

WILL DO HER DUTY

So Says the Veteran "Tom" Cooper of the Old Keystone State.

NO COMFORT FOR INSURGENTS

Pennsylvania Republicans Should Heed the Words of the "Sage of Media."

The veteran and ever "hopeful Tom" Cooper, of Media—editor, statesman, politician and former state chairman of the Republican state committee—comes into the lime light with a timely warning to Republicans of the Keystone State of the danger that lurks in the insurgent political movement back of the Berry candidacy for state treasurer.

In his old established newspaper, the Delaware County American, he says:

"The American has no thought of attacking the character of Mayor Berry, the Democratic - Fusion - Prohibition nominee for state treasurer. That his character is open and manly goes without saying in Delaware county. What we desire most of all other things is to discuss the future, and Berry's prediction that he will be elected. If we unite all elements opposed to the Republicans in an off-year, he is partly justified in his hopes. If he succeeds, as he has in Delaware county, in making a fusion between the Lincoln Republicans and Democrats, and this fusion extends throughout the state, then it is time for Republicans to pause and inquire as to the future.

Berry is Bryan's Leader.

"Pennsylvania is justly regarded all over the union as the banner Republican state. If it should go Democratic this year the credit will go entirely to the Democracy—the Bryan Democracy, for Berry is Bryan's leader in Pennsylvania. He is our state's chief advocate of Bryan's silver views, and of his semi-Socialistic thoughts.

"This is the plain truth. The bitterness of faction cannot hide it, and with Berry on top in Pennsylvania, it will mean Bryan once again in full control of the Democratic party, and its presidential nominee.

"This is politics, free from personality. This goes to the future, and therefore it is that the American asks all good citizens, all Lincoln Republicans, all Gold Democrats, to pause and contemplate the political waves as they come in.

Not a Question of Men.

"This struggle is not a question of men. Plummer, the Republican candidate for state treasurer, is as upright as Mayor Berry. We know it. Six years of recent service in the house with a prominent member thereof enables us to estimate, and we say, despite all factional abuse, that J. Lee Plummer is an honest man.

"Let us contemplate the future, and govern our votes accordingly.

"Roosevelt will not again be a candidate. If our state rushes into troubled waters other states will follow, and confusion will come as it came when Delamater was defeated for governor and Cleveland elected for president. The Delamater incident looked small, the Cleveland panic was large. This is simply politics, as to the future.

"The American believes in every sensible advance, but in reaching better things it would not tear out the eyes of those whose help is very essential.

"We have been through two political revolutions; we know their meaning; we have learned to anticipate their results.

"Look at what the Republican party has done. It has met reform in six great states—in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Oregon, New Jersey, New York and Massachusetts. In these states it has passed great measures, honest measures for personal registration, uniform primaries and safe election laws. As the waves come in, for reform or otherwise, let us inquire if we cannot promote better things within ourselves.

"As sure as we live, Pennsylvania will do her duty, and through the Republican party."

Luther League Convention.

The twelfth annual convention of the Luther Leagues of Pennsylvania will be held in the city of Williamsport, October 24 and 25th. The local Leagues are already preparing to welcome their friends and colaborers in the grand educational movement which the Leagues of Pennsylvania represent. An elaborate program has been arranged, and a large representation from the various local Leagues is all that is needed to make this twelfth anniversary one of the most enthusiastic and interesting meetings yet held by the State organization.

The general topic of the convention will be "Service," and will be subdivided as follows: Tuesday afternoon, "Preparation for Service," (a) Practical, Wm. L. Berst, Erie; (b) Spiritual, Rev. C. R. Botsford, Northumberland. Tuesday evening, "Young Men," (a) Reaching them, Wm. N. McNair, Esq., Pittsburg; "Special Service," (a) Within the Church, Miss Georgie M. Derrickson, Milton; (b) Without the Church, Albert Oettinger, Philadelphia. Wednesday afternoon, "Achievements," Rev. H. F. J. Seneker, Easton. Wednesday evening, "Luther the Reformer," Rev. John B. Fochl, D. D., late President Susquehanna University. "For What does the Lutheran Church Stand?" Rev. John A. W. Haas, D. D., President Muhlenburg College.

Williamsport is a city of 40,000 inhabitants, and is one of the most inviting cities in the state. The delegates will be delightful with the beautiful drives and views from the hills, which as travelers say are as "beautiful as Switzerland."

There are 50 churches in the city, and 9 of them are Lutheran. The convention churches will be St. Paul's and St. Mark's.

Information regarding hotel and boarding house rates should be made to Rev. C. G. Bikle or Rev. Stephen Paulson, Williamsport. Application for card orders must be made to H. L. Hungerford, Wilkes Barre before October 15th. All credentials should be mailed to Miss Nellie Patt, Williamsport, Pa.

Dreams as the Cause of Death and Insanity.

People have actually been killed by dreams. Most persons have suffered from those terrible nightmare visions in which the victim pursued by an assassin with upraised knife, or is in some other immediate danger of a sudden and terrible death. These dreams are common enough, and nearly always the sufferer awakes, thankful and happy at his escape. But sometimes he doesn't awake. Sometimes the knife falls or the sleeper in his hallucination plunges down the precipices These are the dreams that kill.

In cases where dreams kill there is a sort of combined action between the dream and the disease through which death is accomplished. In the first place the dream is usually the product of the disease. A person may have heart disease, which never asserts itself or allows the victim in any way to know of its presence until the fact is disclosed in a frightful dream. Moreover; terrifying dreams are often the first evidence of heart disease. Then the frequent recurrence of these dreams, dealing repeated shocks to the nervous system, aggravates the disease until the heart is so weak that one more shock is sufficient to cause death.

If a person has had bad dreams it does not necessarily follow however, that he has heart disease. Dreams indicating heart disease are usually of a terrifying nature, and relate to death. On awakening, the sufferer will notice a violent heart palpitation. Chronic pericarditis is always preceded by horrible dreams, such as that of being thrown into a lake of fire or being crushed in a railroad wreck, or burned by a volcanic eruption.

The approach of insanity may also be revealed by unpleasant dreams. There are many cases in record where a person has been driven insane by a dream.

THE TOMBSTONE CENSOR.

He Sees That No Unseemly Inscription Mars the Cemetery.

A tombstone censor is employed by most large cemeteries. It is the duty of this man to see that nothing unseemly in the way of a tombstone is put up.

A young engineer in a Norristown mill was killed by the explosion of a boiler, and the family of this young man, believing that the mill owners had known all along that the boiler was defective, actually had carved on the tombstone the sentence, "Murdered by his masters." The tombstone censor, of course, refused to sanction such an epitaph.

On the death of a certain noted prize fighter the surviving brother of the man wanted to put in a glass case beside the grave a championship belt, four medals, a pair of gloves and other trophies of the ring. But the censor's negative was firm.

A widow who believed that the physician was responsible for her husband's death wished to put on the tomb, "He employed a cheap doctor," but the tombstone censor showed her that such an inscription would lay her open to heavy damages for libel.

Atheists sometimes direct in their wills that shocking blasphemies be carved on their monuments. The censor, however, sees to it that these blasphemies do not disfigure the cemetery.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Hide Your Hammer.

The following is worth reading and pasting in your hat. If there is anything to boom business, boom it. Don't pull your face and look as though you had a sour stomach. Hold up your head, smile and look for better things. Hide you hammer, and try to speak well of others, no matter how small you have to be yourself. When a stranger drops in, jolly him, tell him this is the greatest town on earth, and it is. Don't discourage him talking ill of your neighbor. Lead him to believe that he has at last struck a place where white people live. Don't knock. Help yourself along by becoming popular, and push your friends with you. It is dead easy. Be a good fellow and soon you will have a procession of followers. No man ever helped himself by knocking down other people in the character of business. You can't climb the ladder of success by treading on other people's corns. Keep off the corns and don't knock.

Millinery Tendencies.

Small and medium-sized hats are correct this season.

All head coverings run to the picturesque, and most of their smartness depends on the angle at which they are tilted.

Tricornes and long, narrow turbans are noted by a tilt toward the front, while larger dress hats will take any angle becoming to the wearer.

Shapes short in front and very deep at the left side or back are very trying, though swagger.

The very high right side tilt is most becoming.

The soft, pliable, felt plateau will be much used on account of the bends and curves of the prevailing modes. A new idea is to cover it with velvet to within an inch of its edge.

Velvet is to have an increased vogue, as well as feathers.

Roses in the faded tones are among the fashionable trimmings.

The ostrich plume must be of a shade to tone in with the color of the hat.

Schenck—Thompson.

Married at the parsonage of the United Evangelical church at Howard, on Sept. 20th, 1905, Mr. Alonzo E. Schenck to Miss Edith Thompson all of Fairview, Centre county.

NOTICE TO VOTERS.

Persons who have not paid their taxes between October 4th, 1903 and Oct. 7, 1905, cannot vote. Let every Republican voter attend to this, and especially those who voted on age last year—as they must have a tax receipt before they can vote this fall. October 7th is the last day for paying taxes

THINK OF IT!

This Pretty Matron Had Headache and Backache, and Her Condition Was Serious.

PE-RU-NA CURED.

MRS. M. BRICKNER.

99 Eleventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

"A short time ago I found my condition very serious. I had headaches, pains in the back, and frequent dizzy spells which grew worse every month. I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."—Mrs. M. Brickner.

The reason of so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that diseases peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh.

FEMALE TROUBLE NOT RECOGNIZED AS CATARRH.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

If you have catarrh write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Centre Hall

The Granger picnic has passed into history and our little town has settled down into solitude again only to be disturbed by the occasional hoot of the midnight owl or the whistle of the fog born of the automobile as it dashes along our streets. During the picnic the best of order prevailed both in town and on the grounds, and the grangers are to be complimented for the success of the exposition. While the number of visitors from a distance was not so large as on some former occasions nevertheless the trains were all crowded. M. L. Smith and James Shires former residents of Penn's Valley were the only visitors I saw from Johnstown, the former is in the installment business. He located in the Flood City about twelve or fourteen years ago, borrowed money and built houses, the rent of which paid the interest and finally extinguished the debt. His properties today are estimated at sixty five thousand dollars.

W. A. Krise after a six weeks sojourn in Johnstown is home again. From the Johnstown Democrat of the 20th inst we clip the following. "W. A. Krise of Centre Hall, Pa., formerly a resident of Johnstown, has been in the city the last few days the guest of his son, Warren Krise of the Eighth ward, Roxbury, and his daughter, Mrs. W. S. Slick of Walnut Grove. He came here to superintend work on a house now nearing completion in the Seventh ward, the place being the property of his son George, now a resident of Chicago. George will have another house built in the Seventh ward in the near future. The senior Mr. Krise will return to his home in Centre Hall today. Mr. Krise left Johnstown in 1895.

Port Matilda

The schools all began Sept. 11th in Worth Twp. Prof. J. A. Williams, Twp. high school; Gordon Williams, intermediate, Miss Emma Reese, primary; Miss Nora Hamer, Chaney school; Ernest Spotts, Sunny Side; Will Turner, Shady Dell; Mabel Williams, Laurel Run.

The farmers in this section have all gotten their corn off just in time, as old Jack Frost has been here a couple of mornings this week.

Mrs. H. C. Woodring while in Tyrone visiting and helping her daughter Mrs. May Reese put away her big crop of peaches met with a very serious accident, her daughter taking the wash boiler off of the stove with boiling water tripped and spilled the water on her mother's ankle and foot scalding her pretty badly.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co. WILL SOON RETURN

Saturday Next President Roosevelt Will Leave Sagamore Hill for Washington.

WORKING ON MESSAGE

Since the Adjournment of the Peace Conference He Has Been Putting Data Into Definite Form

WAITING FOR DEPARTMENT REPORTS

Oyster Bay, N. Y., September 25.—President Roosevelt will complete his summer sojourn at Sagamore Hill and return to Washington next Saturday. The president, Mrs. Roosevelt and members of their family, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb and the members of the executive force will leave here about 11 o'clock Saturday morning on a special Long Island railroad train. They will go by boat from Long Island City to Jersey City and thence by the Pennsylvania railroad to Washington reaching the capital shortly after 6 o'clock.

The president is devoting considerable time each day to his annual message to congress. So for some time he has been assembling data for the message, but since the adjournment of the peace conference he has been writing the data into definite form. The message will not be completed until some time early in November, because each member of the cabinet will have to supply material for discussion of the work of his department. This information will be contained in the annual reports of the cabinet officers, which have not been completed.

Three topics, highly important at this time to the American people, will be discussed by the president in his message. They are the federal regulation and supervision of life insurance, the relations between this country and Venezuela, and America's interest in the fiscal affairs of the government of Santo Domingo. Other important subjects will be naturally considered, among them scandals disclosed in the departments of agriculture and in the interior; the work of the department of justice in the beef trust cases; the regulation of railroad freight rates; the progress made in the construction of the Panama canal and the conclusion of peace between Russia and Japan.

Much of the material for the discussion of these subjects President Roosevelt now has in hand, and the last days of his stay at Sagamore Hill are being devoted to the preparation of that part of his message which will deal with them. Few visitors have been received since the adjournment of the peace conference, the president desiring so be as free as possible from interruption while working on his message. His last week here is practically devoid of engagements. The consideration of all matters except those of immediate importance is being postponed until the president shall reached Washington.

THE "HORSE SHOE BEND."

The Picturesque Curve to be Cut Out—Engineers Making Survey.

The days of the famous and picturesque "Horse Shoe Bend" on top of the Allegheny mountains are numbered. The huge curve is one of the most notable spots on the entire lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and is known the world over by travelers and readers. The edict has gone forth from the construction department and the fate of the old "bend" is sealed. A railroad engineer corps which had located in Greensburg, recently, to work on the heavy improvements between that place and Beatty, were ordered to Altoona and began at once running preliminary surveys for a straight line between the extreme ends of the Horse Shoe Bend from Allegrippus to Kittaning Point. The bend is about 1¼ miles around, while the straight line across is less than a half mile. Besides cutting off the distance, the terrific mountain grade and incidental dangers will also be eliminated. The heavy fill on the proposed short line will be something extraordinary, and the cost of the proposed improvements at that point will approximate a million dollars.

MARCH OF THE MATCH

FROM THE TWO INCH PINE PLANK TO THE FINISHED PRODUCT.

The Way the Raw Material Is Handled by Machinery That Allows No Halt Until the Perfect Match Drops Into Its Allotted Box.

It is an interesting fact that one of the most useful—indeed, one of the most necessary—articles in the world is so cheap that no man hesitates to ask even a stranger for it or dreams of paying him except by the conventional "Thank you." That matches have come to occupy this position is due largely to American inventive skill.

The first friction matches were made and dipped by hand. They sold for about $3 a gross. Today all matches are made and most of them are dipped by machinery, and one can buy from fifty to seventy-five for a cent. Between these two extremes stretches a long line of complicated and interesting machines.

Inventors began very early to give their attention to devices for making the sticks or splints cheaply. One plan after another was tried until all finally gave way to the ribbon method. The machine for this process is a sort of lathe, in which is placed a cylinder of pine wood the length of seven matches. As this cylinder, previously soaked in hot water or steamed to make it soft and tough, is turned slowly the circumference encounters a blade which pares off a continuous shaving the whole length of the cylinder and the thickness of a single match. This shaving as it peels away from the log again comes in contact with cutters which divide it into seven strips, each as wide as a match is long.

When the ribbons have been cut into manageable length—say seven or eight feet—and freed from knots and crooked grained portions a large number of them—from 120 to 140—are placed in a machine like an ordinary paper cutter. The mass is fed forward automatically, the width of a match at a time, and the descending cutter slices through the mass, making from 120 to 140 splints at a stroke.

The splints are now dried and sifted in partitioned sieves, the motion of which lays the matches parallel and prepares them for their places in frames, where they are dipped by hand. Some of these machines will turn out from 15,000,000 to 17,000,000 splints a day. Rapid and cheap as this method is, it has been superseded in America by another system in which the hand work is reduced to a minimum. The raw material in this case is two inch white pine plank. This is first sawed into blocks the length of a match and thoroughly dried. The blocks are clamped to the bed of a machine, and cutters groove out a set of splints from the surface, not, however, taking the whole surface and converting it into splints at one impact, but cutting the matches out one-fourth of an inch apart.

The splints thus separated are seized in iron clamp plates, which form an endless chain. These carry the splints across a steam heated drum, which warms them nearly to the temperature of the melted paraffin into which they are next dipped. The heat prevents the paraffin from chilling and insures a proper saturation.

From the first order to march these companies of wooden soldiers have no permission to halt. They move on continuously and evenly from the paraffin bath to the rollers which carry the "heading mixture"—phosphorus, chlorate of potash and other substances—and as the companies pass by these rollers place a red or blue cap on the head of each individual. The line of march continues on through a room swept by a blast of cold, dry air, which hardens the newly deposited chemicals until the matches can be safely handled.

Still the companies march until, just before they reach the starting point again, the individual units receive their final order to "fall out" from an automatic and uncompromising punch, which deposits them side by side in a box placed providentially in just the right place and at just the right time by another endless belt.

The cutters meanwhile have been eating away the ridges which were left between the places from which the first set of splints was cut, and so it goes until the whole block has been converted into slim little red or blue capped fellows, each one snappish and full of fire.—Edward Williston Frentz in Youth's Companion.

A Royal Interview.

In his "Tracks of a Rolling Stone" Henry F. Coke describes an interview he had as a boy with King William IV. of England and Queen Adelaide in the early part of the last century. He describes the two thrones and says: "William IV. sat on one, Queen Adelaide on the other. I cannot say whether we were marched past in turn or how I came there. But I remember the look of the king in his naval uniform—his white kerseymere breeches, pink silk stockings and buckled shoes. He took me between his knees and asked, 'Well, what are you going to be, my little man?' 'A sailor,' said I, with brazen simplicity. 'Going to avenge the death of Nelson eh? Fond of sugar plums?' 'Yes,' said I.

"Upon this the king fetched from the depths of his waistcoat pocket a capacious gold box and opened it with a tap, as though he were going to offer me a pinch of snuff. 'There's for you,' said he.

"I helped myself, unnerved by the situation and with my small fist clutching the bonbons, was passed on to Queen Adelaide. She gave me a kiss, and I scuttled back to my mother."

THE TOMBSTONE CENSOR.

He Sees That No Unseemly Inscription Mars the Cemetery.

A tombstone censor is employed by most large cemeteries. It is the duty of this man to see that nothing unseemly in the way of a tombstone is put up.

A young engineer in a Norristown mill was killed by the explosion of a boiler, and the family of this young man, believing that the mill owners had known all along that the boiler was defective, actually had carved on the tombstone the sentence, "Murdered by his masters." The tombstone censor, of course, refused to sanction such an epitaph.

On the death of a certain noted prize fighter the surviving brother of the man wanted to put in a glass case beside the grave a championship belt, four medals, a pair of gloves and other trophies of the ring. But the censor's negative was firm.

A widow who believed that the physician was responsible for her husband's death wished to put on the tomb, "He employed a cheap doctor," but the tombstone censor showed her that such an inscription would lay her open to heavy damages for libel.

Atheists sometimes direct in their wills that shocking blasphemies be carved on their monuments. The censor, however, sees to it that these blasphemies do not disfigure the cemetery.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

NEEDS OF THE HAIR.

The Greatest Are Cleanliness, Ventilation and Friction.

The first and greatest needs of the hair are cleanliness, friction and ventilation. Give your halo a sun bath once in awhile, and the silky strands will fairly laugh with happiness. For some crazy reason there are many individuals who will not wash their heads often enough to keep the hair decently clean. We are not water animals and do not need to soak our topknots every day, but it is a pretty plain fact that once every week or two the hair should be carefully washed. If there is an inclination to dandruff or if the hair is subjected to an unusual amount of dust, a weekly shampoo is an absolute necessity.

By using eggs instead of soap there is no danger whatever of causing the hair to become harsh and brittle. Eggs are as cleansing as soap, and the sulphur contained in them acts as a tonic to the growth. When eggs are used the water should be very hot and the hair rubbed vigorously so that the eggs will make good live suds. No soap is necessary.

When the hair persistently suffers from loss of vitality it is usually from one or more of the following causes. Uncleanliness, lack of care, anxiety, worry, late hours, overstudy, want of exercise or disease. Dyspepsia is responsible for many thinned out halos. The hair, being the most delicate of the body's formation, is the first to show that the body is not receiving sufficient nourishment. The use of harmful restoratives or dyes will frequently cause the hair to become gray and broken. One cannot be too careful what one rubs into one's thought dome.

SECRETS OF THE HAND.

The handshake of some people makes you think of accident and sudden death. Contrast this ill boding hand with the quick, skilful, quiet hand of a nurse whom I remember with affection because she took the best care of my teacher. I have clasped the hands of some rich people that spin not and toil not and yet are not beautiful. Beneath their soft, smooth roundness what a chaos of undeveloped character!

All this is my private science of palmistry, and when I tell your fortune it is by no mysterious intuition or gypsy witchcraft, but by natural, explicable recognition of the embossed character in your hand. Not only is the hand as easy to recognize as the face, but it reveals its secrets more openly and unconsciously. People control their countenances, but the hand is under no such restraint. It relaxes and becomes listless when the spirit is low and dejected, the muscles tighten when the mind is excited or the heart glad, and permanent qualities stand written on it all the time.

As there are many beauties of the face, so the beauties of the hand are many. Touch has its ecstasies. The hands of people of strong individuality and sensitiveness are wonderfully mobile. In a glance of their finger tips they express many shades of thought. Now and again I touch a fine, graceful, supple wristed hand which spells with the same beauty and distinction that you must see in the handwriting of some highly cultivated people. I wish you could see how prettily little children spell in my hand. They are wild flowers of humanity and their finger motions wild flowers of speech.—Helen Keller in Century.

Won't Let City Mark Her Relative's Grave.

After raising nearly $500 as a fund with which to purchase a tablet for the unmarked and neglected grave of A. Boyd Cummings, donor of Brandon park to the city of Williamsport, the people's plans have been shattered by a letter received from a niece of Mr. Cummings at Washington.

She refused to permit the public's memorial to be erected on the grave, declaring that whatever in the way of a monument is needed she will buy herself.

Mayor Foresman and four other prominent citizens have been named as a committee to expend the fund, the purpose being to purchase a granite boulder with a bronze tablet attached, the latter bearing record of Mr. Cummings' gift to the city.

Fruit at Breakfast.

Serve fresh, ripe fruit for the first course at breakfast, as at other meals. At sanitariums the patients are expected to eat fruit before the cooked food This may be an innovation in the country. The family are accustomed to sit down at table and eat heartily of fried meat, fried or boiled potatoes, and strong coffee, and then have little desire for fresh berries, apples, peaches and other fruit in its season. The strength recuperated by the rest of the night must largely be expended in digesting hearty, unsuitable food, whereas as much as possible should be in reserve for the day's labor.

Hired Man Weds Rich Girl; Papa Uses Gun.

Geo. Keck, a day laborer on the farm of John Williams, the wealthiest farmer in Westmoreland county, Saturday remarked that he guessed he would leave and would take his wife with him.

He pointed to Katherine, the 20-year old daughter of Williams, saying she had been Mrs. Keck for several months.

The young woman blushingly admitted that such was the case, whereupon Farmer Williams made a dash for the family shotgun.

There was some fierce gun play, in which young Mrs. Keck was slightly wounded by a charge of buckshot.

Keck retreated, but he came with a team and some friends, and got away not only with his wife, but with his mother-in-law as well, the latter declaring she would go with her daughter on the honeymoon trip.

Keck is twice as old as his wife.

An Eskimo Girl's Ball Dress.

When an Eskimo young lady goes to a ball she is a gorgeous sight to gaze upon. A traveler reports just how a belle was dressed on such an occasion. Her dress was made of the intestines of a seal, split and sowed together. This makes a transparent garment and the girl trimmed it with elaborate embroidery of colored worsted and fringed it with strings of beades. Her trousers were white and made of Siberia reindeer skin Her hair was braided with strips of wolf skin and strips of beads. Heavy necklace and pendants of beads and teeth of animals hung around her neck and over her shoulders.

Snow white gloves made of fawn skin were on her hands. These fitted perfectly and were ornamented with strips of skin from some animal—perhaps the seal. To complete this elaborate outfit this Eskimo belle carried long eagle feathers, one in each hand, which she waved as she danced.

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

TROUBLES IN CUBAN REPUBLIC!

Leader of Liberal Party Was Killed.

IN CIENFUEGOS CITY

As Was also the Chief of Police in a Fight Between Liberals and Moderates.

THERE WERE BOMBS IN A HOTEL.

Havana, Sept. 23—Official dispatches received this morning from Cienfuegos announced the killing of Congressman Enrique Villuendas, leader of the liberal party, and the most able orator in the lower house, and the chief of police of Cienfuegos during a conflict between the two political parties, the liberals and moderates.

The government advices say the police had information that within the hotel in which Villunedas resided a quanity of arms had been depcsited and they went to the hotel to investigate the matter. As the police ascended the stairs they were met by a party of liberals, who fired on them, killing Chief of Police Illance. The police returned the fire, killing Villunedas and wounding several others. Intense excitement prevailed at Cienfuegos and Havana. The government authorities fear the result which the affair may have upon the election of members of the boards, which will be held today.

As the news spread throughout Havana the liberals and moderates are rapidly gathering in their respective clubs and it is feared that unless the leaders give wise council a clash may result tonight.

A dispatch from Cienfuegos says that six persons were killed and twenty five wounded during the conflict.

Dispatches to the government say that besides Congressman Villuendas and Chief of Police Illance, two policemen were killed and a number of policemen and civilians wounded.

Rural guards surrounded the entire block in which the hotel Suize, the scene of the affair, is situated.

One telegram says that Villunedas fired the shot which killed the chief of police, while according to another telegram the shot was fired by Jose Fernandez, a liberal, who has been arrested.

A search of the hotel revealed two dynamite bombs in the room occupied by Villuendas. The police in searching the hotel were carrying out the orders of a judge, who was informed that explosives were hidden there.

The govenment has received a telegram from Senator Friaz asking it to send reinforcments at once. The telegram says:

"While in Cienfuegos at present the forces are keeping order, every precaution is needed as there is danger of an assault. I recommend that the authorities prevent the entrance into Cienfuegos of trouble-makers, who are liable to invade the city. There are feare of dynamite bomb throwing."

Acting on the advice of Senator Friaz, the government sent a train of five cars loaded with rual guards, the larger part of whom are destined for Cienfuegos, while the others will be distributed in Matanzas and Santa Clara, where advices received by the government indicate serious trouble may occur at any time. The train also carries artillery and the troops are supplied with 13,000 rounds of ammunition.

The feeling in Havana is most intense. The liberals are bitterly denouncing the government, saying they have received no advices from Cienfuegos because the government will not permit the use of either the government telegraph line or the cable lines.

The most patient Bellefonte citizen must show annoyance at times.

Nothing spoils a good disposition.

Nothing taxes a man's patience.

Like any itchiness of the skin.

Itching piles almost drive you crazy.

All day it makes you miserable.

All night it keeps you awake.

Itch! Itch! Itch! with no relief.

Just the same with eczema.

Can hardly keep from scratching it.

You would do so but you know it makes it worse.

Such miseries are daily decreasing.

People are learning they can be cured.

Learning the merit of Doan's Ointment.

Plenty of proof that Doan's Ointment will cure Piles, Eczema or any Itching of the skin.

Read the testimony of a Bellefonte citizen.

A hotel man of Bellefoute, says: "I have used Doan's Ointment and know it to be all that it is claimed to be. I tried it for itching hemorrhoids and other skin eruptions and found it to be not only one of the best, but in fact the only remedy that ever gave me any relief. I was in constant torment for years with hemorrhoids and anyone who has suffered from this trouble will know how welcome was the relief I found in Doan's Ointment. It cured me in about twenty-four hours. I have not only used it myself but have recommended it in numerous cases and always with the same good results. I would not allow my name to be used as a reference if I did not know it to be just as represented. I got the Ointment at F. Potts Green's drug store."

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs.

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ike of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble. C. M. Parrish.

To Asthma Sufferers.

Lawson Elviege, of Barrington, Ill., says he was cured of chronic asthma of long standing by Foleys Honey and Tar. It gives positive relief in all cases of asthma, so this disease, when not completely cured, is robbed of all its terrors by this great remedy. C. M. Parrish.

Discoverer of Crime Threatened by Mafia.

Nelson Hoover, a young carpenter from Shamokin, for the last month a resident of Sunbury, is afraid he will be murdered if he goes to the coal regions, as he received a Black Hand notice Friday. Hoover does not know who his enemies are, but thinks that because he was present on the scene a short time after a headless body, never satisfactorily identified, was found near Hickory Ridge some time ago he incurred the enmity of the assassins, who may think he knows something dangerous, and want him out of the way.

Hoover received his notice at the home of a relative, Mrs. Hattie Kline, where he has been since he was released from the Mary M. Packer hospital recently. The notice was written on a piece of cardboard and pinned on the kitchen wall with a knife. It had a hand, blackened with lampblack, a skull and crossbones, and over the hand the word "Beware!" Below were the figure "3" and the letter "H."

The person who pinned the notice on the wall broke in through a screen window. It is evident that the only intention was to warn and frighten Hoover, for Mrs. Kline's pocketbook, containing $20 and lying on the table in full view, was untouched.

Hoover is 24 years old. He first felt the hand of his enemies one night nine weeks ago, when he was attacked at Commerce and Cherry streets, Shamokin. He was shot through the wrist, knocked senseless and carried to an isolated place. No attempt was made to rob him.

Hoover was revived by pedestrians and sent to the hospital. When there he received a threatening anonymous letter that he had better not leave the hospital or he would go back again.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science is able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Any man can be a first class gentleman in half the time it takes to make a third-rate loafer of himself.

I never knew a man who walked on the points of his toes to amount to much; the flat-footed kind are the ones who win.

Honesty is a good thing, but if a man has nothing else to brag on, he is likely to spend next winter in some almshouse.

Always think twice before you speak once, and remember one word of slander may do your neighbor irreparable injury.

Gamblers and infidels may be very brave, but they haven't faith enough in their profession to teach it to their children.

I never knew of but one man to die of a broken heart, and he did it by trying to lift a barrel of cider and drink it out of the bung.

Patience and laziness are sometimes confounded, and the mistake is not unnatural, for I often notice that those who have a good of either have a fair supply of the other.

One of the best arguments I know of in favor of matrimony is those who have been married once, I don't care what luck they had the first time, are the most crazy to try it again.

The devil takes all the chances. He attacks the lazy through their fears, the busy through their hopes, and all of us through one avenue or another.

Always Successful.

When indigestion becomes chronic it is dangerous. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will cure indigestion and all troubles resulting therefrom, thus preventing Catarrh of the stomach. Dr. Newbrough of League, W. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Heirs Find $10,595 in an Abandoned Trunk.

The finding of more than $10,000 in an old trunk came to light this week in Springfield, O., in probate court when an inventory was filed of the estate of Eliza M. Jeffers, who died in July, 81 years old.

Although her heirs knew she had considerable wealth, visits to the banks after her death failed to reveal anything. Mrs. Jeffers, who had been a great traveler, always took an old black trunk with her. Relatives suspected that it might contain treasures. They pried it open, and found concealed $10,595 in cash.

The trunk had been ignored for sometime and lay unclaimed in a local freight office. The descendants, two sisters, Mary and Sarah Ogden, of Eaton, Ohio, are both blind.

A New Jersey Editor's Testimonial.

M. T. Lynch, Editor of the Philipsburg, N. J., Daily Post, writes: "I have used many kinds of medicine for coughs and colds in my family but never anything so good as Foley's Honey and Tar. I cannot say too much in praise of it." C. M. Parrish.

Read!

In the New York Family Story Paper Charlotte May Kingsley's great romance An American Girl; or Hearts and Coronets. The subject deals with the one brought into prominence only lately by Andrew Carnegie's remark that he would not care to have a worthless British Duke marry into his family. Mrs. Kingsley depicts the American Girl true to life with all of a real American girl's abhorrence of being bartered for a title. This splendid serial begins in No. 1654 of The New York Family Story Paper. To enable all to read this fascinating romance we will send you a copy of the paper, containing the opening instalment, free of all charge. Send your name and address on a postal card to The New York Family Story Paper, 24-26 Vandewater street, New York city.

STRONG Again

is what Mrs. Lucy Stovall, of Tilton, Ga., said after taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hundreds of other weak women are being restored to perfect health by this remedy. YOU may be well if you will take it.

Indigestion causes nearly all the sickness that women have. It deprives the system of nourishment and the delicate organs peculiar to women suffer, weaken, and become diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten. It nourishes the body, and rebuilds the weak organs, restoring health and strength. Kodol cures indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, sour risings, belching, heartburn and all stomach disorders.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—The State Conference of Daughters of America Revolution will be held at Reading Oct. 11, 12 and 13.

—Mr. Jacob Kerehner and Miss Mary Heaton, of Unionville were married Friday by Squire Musser in his office.

—Miss Myrtle Showers fell down the stair steps Monday morning at the home of her uncle, Mr. Samuel Brooks and broke her arm.

—The iron fence around St. John's Reformed church has been removed preparatory to a number of improvements that will be made in the near future.

—Among the cattle to be seen at the Fair next week will be Jersey, Herefords, Alderneys, Roll Angus, Black Belted and Guernseys. There will be a great cattle exhibit.

—Among the appointments announced at the Allegheny conference of the United Brethren church held at Johnstown Sunday was A. Davidson, Bellefonte, and H. T. Wenlinger, Sugar Valley.

—Loella and Frank C., two race horses owned by M. B. Garman, of this place, were winners at the Hughesville fair last week. They won some valuable purses and made an excellent record for themselves.

—Local hunters are already making preparations for the hunting season which is soon opening. Shooting at clay pigeons is being practiced by some almost daily in order to be in good condition to bag the game.

—Mrs. Quay, widow of Senator M. S. Quay, announces the engagement of her daughter, Susan W., to Watson Hubbard Butler, of Sandusky, O. The wedding will be a very quiet affair and will take place this fall at the home of the family in Beaver, Pa.

—Geo. Mihm, a retired farmer of Silver Run, near Hanover, is dead at the age of 104 years. He was born in 1801, and was the oldest resident of Carroll county. He is survived by his second wife, to whom he was married five years ago, at the age of 99 years.

—We are indebted to Ira D. Garman, jeweler, 101 South Eleventh Street, Philadelphia, for a beautiful blotter. It is a very unique and pretty affair. There are four blotters attached to a beautifully decorated ivory cover, on which Mr. Garman's name and place of business are printed.

—There will be pigs in abundance at the Fair next week and the two that Henry Houser intends bringing will beat anything in Nittany valley this fall, so Henry thinks, but then there will be others that might make Henry's look like little ones if they are displayed.

—Mr. H. G. W. English, of Pittsburg a brother of Mrs. Morris Furey, of Bellefonte, is mourning the loss of his son, who died in Pittsburg Friday of typhoid fever aged nineteen years Mr. English, Sr., is the President of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and has often visited Bellefonte and addressed the Brotherhood here.

—The consistory of St. John's Reformed church decided at its last meeting upon a change in the hour of Sunday morning services. Beginning with the third Sunday in October the morning service will be held at 11 o'clock instead of 10:30. At the same time the Sunday school will meet regularly at 9:45 a. m., instead of 9:15 a m.

—Dean Baker was arrested by officer Montgomery at Lock Haven Saturday on oath and inclination of D. H. Shivery charged with larceny of money, he was taken before Squire Musser Monday. There were quite a number of witnesses but there was not evidence enough to hold him and he was discharged. Mr. Baker was defended by D. K. Johnson.

—While the yard engine was shifting some cars into the American Lime & Stone Co. siding near the Bellefonte Central switches, Saturday noon, three cars were derailed. It necessitated the transferring the passengers from the 1:05 and 1:25 trains. Passengers and baggage to and from Bellefonte were transferred by the Lewisburg passenger train, —Remember that there will be no big day at the Fair this year. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will all be big days and if you want to see the whole show you should be there every day. Go early and spend the day on the grounds. Everything will be wide open at 9 o'clock in the morning, the band concerts will begin at ten and from that on until dusk there will be a round of amusements.

—The birds begin to take their flying trips South.

—It goes without saying—a phonograph with a record.

—The sea naturally gets wild when the wind blows it up.

—It turn about is fair play the merry-go-round must be it.

—Yes, the race is to the swift provided he keeps going.

—In polite society it's the loud laugh that is considered low.

—Some people can't even lay down a rule without breaking it.

—The greatest follies are often committed by the smallest fools.

—Reading maketh a man full, but not reading the bill of fare.

—You can't convince the oldest inhabitant that the good die young.

—Nature is full of paradoxes. Even the cross roads may look pleasant.

—No man can be a poet who lacks imagination. Nor a fisherman, either.

—There is no use in trying to dodge a lie; it knows more dodges than you do.

—When it comes to the Atlantic ocean there's a great deal to be said on both sides.

—You don't think so much of the man behind the gun when he is a hold-up man.

—It is sometimes difficult to distinguish between dignified silence and downright ignorance.

—Some people are honest and sincere as long as it doesn't cost them anything.

—The best laid schemes of mice and men very seldom succeed in connecting with the cheese.

—When two young people embark on the sea of matrimony one of them is pretty sure to rock the boat,

—Some people seem to be cut out for the sole purpose of waiting, and gloriously fulfill their destiny.

—There is a time in every man's life when sees himself on the pinnacle of fame. Then, alas, he wakes up.

—Charity begins at home, but reform is more generous. It begins with the fellow at the other end of the block.

—Do a man a good turn and he will forget it in a week. Do him a bad turn and he will remember it to his dying day.

—On Tuesday evening Mrs. T. A. Shoemaker entertained a party of fourteen at the Country club, for Miss Louise Potter and Miss Marie Roder, of Baltimore.

—F. W. Crider this week had a ten inch sewer pipe put in from the Exchange to tap the big sewer on High street opposite the residence of Mrs. Wm. P. Wilson.

—Mr. Scott W. Mutholleu of Bellwood and Miss Lydian H. Ettley of Howard, Centre county, were married last Thursday in New York. The groom is a well known Bellwood young man and the bride is a niece of Mr. P. L. King of Altoona. They will reside in Altoona.

—The following are the people that registered at the Musser House, Millheim Pa., during the past week: Joseph Healey, Snow Shoe; C. M. Gramley, Rebersburg; W. Sheffer, Pittsburg; John Sheffnar, Pine Grove; W. H. Troxell, Shamokin; C. W. M. Lane, N. Y.; Geo. W. Smugiser, Allentown; Alfred Diehl, Wateontown; Frank Crawford, Bellefonte; A. C. Otis and wife of Phila.; T. M. Moor, Ashland, Ohio; C. C. Wilson, Shamokin; S. B. and S. L. Bluestine, Phila.; H. N. Meyer, City; J. A. Glesser, Laureiton, Pa.

—The peach crop in Centre county is pretty well cleaned up by this time. Joe Diehl, of Howard, who purchased the entire output of the Col. W. F. Reynolds orchard, will gather the last of the peaches there this week. The Reynolds crop was not nearly as large as it was estimated: as it will not run over 2,500 bushels. But the fruit was of the very finest. Boop and Keister, at Coburn, still have a great many peaches, their orchards being from a week to two weeks later than the Reynolds and other orchards.

—The Methodist Episcopal church at Curtin has been undergoing considerable repairs and decorations, and it will be re-opened on Sunday, Oct. 1st, some very able ministers of the denomination will be present. There will be three services, preaching morning and evening and a platform meeting for the Sunday school in the afternoon at three o'clock. As the services will be very interesting a large attendance is expected. Everyone who can come will be welcomed and will be repaid by hearing good preaching and speaking.

—The Pennsylvania railroad is said to be contemplating an order for new passenger equipment, to follow the contract just placed for freight cars. There is a shortage of passenger coaches, particularly on the lines east of Pittsburg and Erie, and as the passenger car builders are almost as seriously congested with orders as the manufactures of freight cars, an early order is necessary if the cars, are to be delivered in time to be of use when passenger traffic experiences the summer boom next year.

—The shirt factory closed Tuesday morning for two weeks.

—Jack Frost gave the tarrying straw hat a blow Tuesday morning.

—For furnace, steam or hot water heating see A. E. Schad, Eagle Block.

—Mr. Ross Parker, conductor on the Bellefonte Central is sporting a new suit of blue.

—Dr. R. G. H. Hayes has moved his household goods to his new home on East Linn street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leopard of Lamb street are rejoicing over the arrival of a dear little baby girl.

—Madam Lockhart, the daintiest aronaut in the business, will make a balloon ascension each day of the fair next week.

—H. S. Ray has sold his Cadillac run-about to Hugh N. Crider, son of F. W. Crider, who now has the automobile craze

—When a man starts out to borrow money he doesn't find out who are his friends so much as he finds out who are easy marks.

—Mrs. George Grimm, of Thomas street, entertained about twenty-five ladies and gentlemen at her home Friday evening.

—Women are not concerned in how men save money; what they want the men to be proficient in is the art of making money.

—H. C. Quigley Esq., and a few other gentlemen entertained Senator Boies Penrose at the Nittany Country Club last Thursday evening.

—"Dreamland," a beautiful show of illusions, posturing and vaudeville, has been booked among the other attractions for the Fair next week.

—S. H. William's and a force of men have finished the work of painting and papering the interior of the new First National Bank at State College.

—Ceader's have the concession for the eating stand on the Fair grounds next week, which is a gusrantee that the food offered for sale will be of the best.

—A mare twenty-one years old with twin colts at her side is nothing short of a curiosity yet there there will be one at the Great Centre County Fair next week.

—Weston W. Hague, aged 20 a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman was killed at Altoona while alighting from an engine Tuesday, accidentally stopping in front of an express train.

—The many friends of Edward Fleming will be glad to learn that he has so far recovered from an attack of typhoid fever, that he was able to leave the hospital and return to his home Sunday.

—A colossal monument of fruit and grain is being built by Mr. Stromeir, the the artist who designed the shaft for the Grangers picnic at Centre Hall. This will be something entirely new for many people in the county.

—Chestnuts will be very scarce this fall the long continued rainy weather having caused the burrs to fall prematurely; but turkeys, a more important requisite for a successful Thanksgiving, will be more plentiful than in ten years.

—The exhibit of agricultural implements at the fair next week will be something the like of which has never been seen in this county. The National Harvester company is going to make a great display but the others will not be behind them.

—Two Bellefonte ladies had a most enjoyable time at Grange Park Thursday. They played the fortune wheel for all it was worth but in the end they were sadder but wiser ladies. Next time you go to a picnic stay away from the fortune wheel.

—At the M. E. parsonage in Port Matilda on Wednesday, Sept. 20 Hosea B. Woomer, and Miss Mary T. Irvin, both of Olivia, were quietly married by Rev. J. B. Durkee. Mr. Woomer is an industrious young railroad man while the bride is a bright young lady. After a brief wedding tour in the east they will reside in Tyrone.

—David Brady, a well-to-do farmer of Greenwood township, Columbia county, met death in a peculiar manner Thursday night. He was driving the cows from pasture when his foot caught in the tangled grass and he was thrown headlong into a barbed-wire fence, the bark piercing the bowels and intestines causing death half an hour later. He was 90 years of age, and is survived by a wife, three sons and four daughters.

—The county race will be one of the greatest attractions at the Fair. Henry Lowry, Lew Wallace, John Wagner, Reuben Conley and several other gentlemen with horses that have a strong road gait are going to show some of these professional horsemen that amateurs can do a little driving too. There can be no doubt of the fun this race will make and you should be there to enjoy it and cheer for your favorite.

—"The Red-Headed League," a new Sherlock Holmes story by Dr. A. Conan Doyle, is to appear next Sunday. It is one of the most unique of the many delightful Sherlock Holmes stories which Dr. Doyle has written, and is the fourth in the series now running in the Sunday Dispatch. Dr. Doyle's idea of weaving the entire plot around the color of the hair of one victim gives the tale a tremendous interest from start to finish.

Hon. John Noll was feeling so good last week over having completed the walls for the new agricultural building at the Pennsylvania State College that he took a run down to Allentown just to see the big fair, which was held there last week; and incidentally observe just how fast Dan Patch, the drawing card-horse of the week could trot.

Joseph Shaughnessy, son of Thomas Shaughnessy, spent last Sunday in Bellefonte with his parents and a friend. He is in the employ of the Pittsburg Construction Co., and is working for them in a large hotel at Clearfield, the principal stock-holders of which are the Beezer Bros., formerly of Bellefonte but now of Pittsburg. The hotel is seven stories, thoroughly fire proof, with all the modern conveniences. It was opened Thursday of last week.

For Breakfast Luncheon or Tea

A few small biscuits easily made with Royal Baking Powder. Make them small—as small round as a napkin ring. Mix and bake just before the meal. Serve hot.

Nothing better for a light dessert than these little hot biscuits with butter and honey, marmalade or jam.

You must use Royal Baking Powder to get them right.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK

Mr. W. H. Hamilton and wife left Tuesday for Altoona to attend the State Session of the Daughters of America to be held in that place this week.

Passenger's Wild Ride.

A passenger on one of Pittsburg flyers westbound, a few days ago, will have occasion to remember his ride down the mountain before his train was stopped and he was rescued from a dangerous position. The train flew past Cresson at 50 miles an hour, when one of the operators noticed a man hanging on the steps, and sent word to Lilly tower, where the rescue was effected.

The man had evidently jumped on the train when it was pulling from some depot and the doors being locked and the passenger being unnoticed by the crew, was forced to maintain his position on the step by clinging to the hand railing. When discovered his arms had been badly cramped and he would not have been able to maintain his hold much longer, but would have been hurled to death along the track as the flyer was making up lost time.

Harvest Home Picnic and Festival.

Washington Grange 157 will hold a Harvest Home picnic and festival in Johnson's Grove, Pine Hall, Saturday Sept. 30, 1905. There will be speaking morning and afternoon by Hon. A. L. Martin, deputy Secretary of Agriculture of Pennsylvania, and Hon. W. F. Hill, master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, Prof. H. A. Surface and Mr. M. S. McDowell of the Pennsylvania State College will also speak. All are invited to attend with well filled baskets and enjoy a dinner in the woods. Plenty of good music by a first class band. A festival for the benefit of the Grange will be held in the evening.

Fire at State College.

The Sigma Chi fraternity house was badly damaged by fire Tuesday morning. The blaze got well under way before the arrival of the local fire department, and although a number of students worked hard the fire was not controlled and the house was badly wrecked. Nearly all the furniture and household goods were rescued. Fawkes, half back on the varsity football eleven, sustained a sprained ankle while leading the students fire brigade.

DON'T GET MIXED.—Every day will be a great one at the fair next week. There will be something different each day so don't imagine that Thursday will be any better than Wednesday or Friday, because it will not. All will be good days and, besides, the great county race will be run on Wednesday.
